Small Texan Loses Leg to Cancer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) —

Freddie Joe Steinmark stood half dressed in the Texas dressing room and received congratulations from President Nixon in Fayetteville, Ark. The junior safety had just played every defensive down in the monumental 15-14 Longhorn win over Arkansas, ranked Nos. 1 and 2 respectively before the game.

That was last Saturday. On Friday, Freddie Joe Steinmark lost his left leg when doctors at M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute amputated it at the hip.

A tumor of the left femur, or thigh bone, was found to be malignant and it was necessary to remove the left limb at the hip, a press release said.

He was reported in satisfactory condition following the operation.

As the Steer's junior safety, the scrappy 5-10, 160-pound engineering student had started in 21 football games in two championship seasons. He is the smallest man on the 22-member starting squads.

He had complained of a soreness in his thigh to his roommate, Bobby Mitchell, in the pre-season workouts, but it wasn't enough to get him down.

He played in the Arkansas-Texas game with the pain, but team officials thought it was a bruised hip.

By Monday he was limping slightly and complaining of the bruise. It was x-rayed and university physicians suggested he be brought to M. D. Anderson.

He was hospitalized Wednesday night and prepared for surgery Friday.

The hospital pointed out that the mass in the leg was not the result of a football injury.

NEW YORK (NEA)—This "lame-duck" portion of the football season — the period between regular-season clinchings and the start of the play-offs—is usually looked upon as the time divisional winners regroup to lick their wounds and get ready for the impending championship games.

But, running out the remainder of the schedule is not as simple as it may appear. The big risk of losing a key player with an injury in a game that doesn't mean much in the standings is paramount in the minds of coaches. And maintaining the momentum that carried them through the regular season is another factor coaches worry about at this stage of the year. But nobody can blame them.

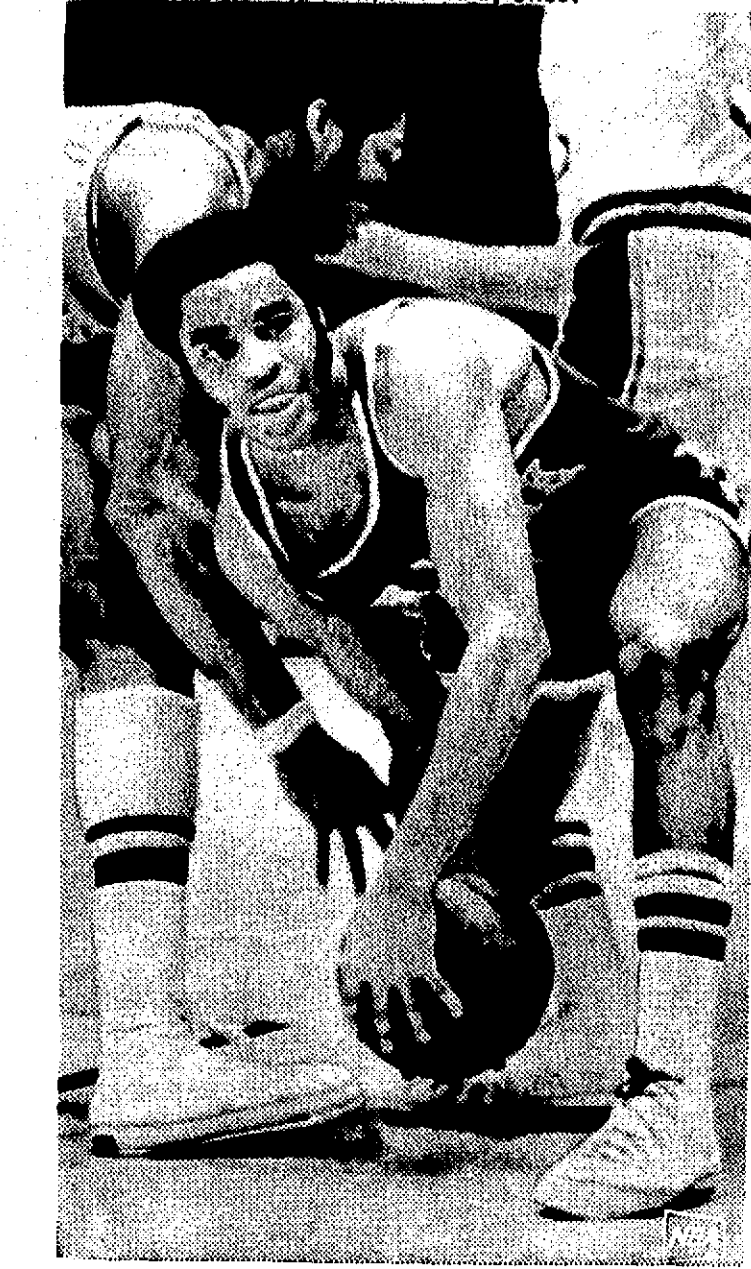

How do you think George Allen, for example, would feel if he lost Roman Gabriel for the play-offs because of an injury suffered in one of the "lame-duck" games?

The same goes for Bud Grant, if he lost Joe Kapp, or Blanton Collier if he lost Leroy Kelly? At this stage, coaches have to approach their remaining games with one eye on the play-offs.

The situation, of course, brings up some interesting points. The risk of injury is most important. The only solution is using regulars less and substitutes more. But this brings up the momentum thing. During the course of a season, a team builds up unity, pride, if you must — and to break up a defensive unit or an offensive unit just before the play-offs is hardly advisable. When you put them back together, a certain degree of momentum is invariably lost.

As for the individual player, keeping sharp is no problem. After playing five months of football, some rest actually would do them good. At this stage of the season, a minimum of work is required to keep a competitive edge. And for the first time in the season, most of the players can actually relax during the week because the pressure is off. But on game days, players will get themselves emotionally prepared. Once they get on the field, they'll give their usual 100 per cent.

The only players who fall into a "problem" category

Outboard Racing Fame Is Not a Petty Thing

LAKE HAVASU CITY, Ariz.—(NEA)—It is the dilemma of outboard motorboat racing, perhaps, that Bill Petty is known, not for the fact that he won 27 of 31 races this year, but because he once flew model airplanes with Neil Armstrong. Outboard motor racing, quite truthfully, rates somewhere behind polo as a glamorous sport and its redeeming aspects are not spendable. Money in motorboat racing is about as rare as crocodiles in Indiana.

Except for a rare meet like the $50,000 Outboard World Championship here—which actually is more or less a publicity gimmick to promote development around this man-made lake in the middle of an Arizona desert—pay-offs usually consist of a $50 check and a $10 trophy, or vice versa.

Petty won all of $3,000 for his 27 victories.

"If they wanted to make money, they could open a laundry," says Robert P. McCulloch, the Lake Havasu City race's founder. "These men are not in it for the money. They're in it for the thrill of winning."

Most of the 123 drivers who competed here already own a laundry or the equivalent. They have to. "There's no way to make money in this sport," says Mike Quale, who teaches geography and takes photographs five days a week. "If I figured out how much racing boats cost me, I'd quit."

As a man who owns two small companies in Wapakoneta, Ohio, Petty says, "You wouldn't believe the people who race boats. Schoolteachers, meat cutters . . . everybody does something else."

Until two years ago, Petty's waking hours were spent making his businesses go. Then a neighbor allowed him to drive his boat, a high-powered craft that zipped

W. Clyde Frazier Leads With His Cool

NEW YORK (NEA)—If there is one thing about Walt Frazier that pleases followers of the New York Knicks—erobckers more than his defensive play, his lead passes or his steals. It is his composure.

Walt Frazier, Knicks fans say, is supercool. He floats around basketball courts in white Adidas low-cuts, sideburns extending to the corners of his mouth, wearing an expression that suggests utter boredom. Never, in moments of stress, does Walt Frazier get mad and never, in elation, does Walt Frazier allow himself the luxury of a smile.

His demeanor, clearly, is one of detached involvement. "It's all a matter of leadership," said Frazier, pulling on a powder-blue sweatshirt in the Rego Park, L.I., gym where the Knicks practice. "I feel I'm a leader on this team and leaders aren't supposed to show their emotions, especially when things aren't going right. How do you think the other players feel when they see their teammates or their coach upset? They wind up getting upset themselves."

"The only time I really get mad during a game is when someone scores on me, one-on-one. It really bugs me, but I wipe it out of my mind right away. I make a mental note and tell myself, 'The next time he comes at me, I'll stop him.' It's bad enough to make a mistake, but why make things worse by getting mad at yourself? Heck, by the time you snap out of it, the same guy might score three or four more on you. And what's left after that, except getting even madder?"

To preserve his nonchalance, Frazier says he spends game days shopping for clothes, usually. Sometimes he just sleeps the day away. And never does he disturb his relaxation by thinking about basketball.

"I try to avoid getting keyed up before a game. In fact, I don't think about a game until the opening tip-off. Even during warmups, I try to think of other things, a sweater I just bought, or a suit, or even something that happened that day. Getting keyed up before a game is bad because it clogs your mind. When I play, I want my mind to be clear so I can be thinking all the time."

It also is Frazier's contention that, in an 82-game season, the risk of becoming emotionally drained is high.

"I've seen guys psyched up game after game early in the season, but near the end, when it really counts, they wind up going through the motions. There's no way you can get high for 82 straight games. There are some teams you like to beat more than others, sure, but you've got to keep your perspective. And after every game, you've got to unwind, get it out of your system and forget. I usually go out and have a couple of drinks."

Nicknamed "Clyde" by his teammates (a flippant tribute to his pass-stealing and his penchant for wearing hats of 1930 vintage), Frazier says at least part of the Knicks' success this season can be attributed to a feeling of relaxed professionalism. Coolness, if you will.

"This is a loose club, very loose. Playing is a lot of fun for us, believe it or not. Getting beat by San Francisco in the sixth game of the season took a lot of pressure off. We're not worrying about protecting any unbeaten streaks now. We go out and win 24 of our first 25 games and nobody's worrying about losing that first one. That loss may even have been good for us."

"When you're playing relaxed, things come automatically. Tell you the truth, I hardly ever work on my defense any more. When I was in college (Southern Illinois), I spent hours on top of hours working on my defense. But I don't worry about defense any more. I don't worry about anything. Leaders aren't supposed to worry, either."

Cousy's Theory On 'Involvement' Irking Oscar

By MARTY RALBOVSKY
NEA Sports Writer

ALTHOUGH HE WON'T admit it, publicly, at least, Oscar Robertson isn't exactly overjoyed at Bob Cousy's coaching theories . . . Cousy says he wants a totally involved offense, which means Oscar is seeing the ball less, and scoring less. In a recent game against the Knicks, Oscar went an entire period without getting a shot and then resigned to setting picks the rest of the game . . . His comment, when asked why he's not getting the ball: "Don't ask me. Ask the coach."

No matter where he seems to be at the time, TV's Jim Nabors always manages to fly back to Los Angeles when the Rams are playing at home to sing the pregame National Anthem . . . He's such a Rams' fan, he's even volunteered to sing before road games, too, but in Philadelphia they turned him down . . .

Mike Casey is through with basketball at Kentucky this season, but has a year of eligibility left and may come back to play next season, even though his class graduates in June . . . The left leg he fractured in three places in an auto accident last July is still in a cast, but Casey still shows up at practice to shoot free throws every day . . . The final alignment of the NFL is being held up by the San Francisco 49ers, who are insisting that New Orleans and Atlanta be in their new division . . . How good are the New York Knicks? This good—they made such a runaway of a game against the Celtics recently that people were actually leaving Madison Square Garden at halftime . . .

When the World Outboard Racing Championship is held in Lake Havasu City, Ariz., officials will be more concerned with the start than the finish . . . "Last years," says Jim Hurtubise, one of the competitors, "a lot of drivers mistook the parade lap for the start. With 130 boats in the water, it was mass confusion. Some of the guys saw a flag being waved, gunned their engines, and took off. By the time things got straightened out, there were dozens of boats sinking and drivers swimming back to shore. It's a wonder nobody was killed."

Although its record isn't much, Kent State University's recruiting trips to Canada are starting to pay off . . . The school's football staff has been visiting summer football camps in Ontario the last half-dozen years and one of its discoveries—linebacker Jim Corrigan—wound up a first-team NEA All-American . . . Corrigan, 6-foot-4 and 245, has already been drafted by the Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian League, and might play up there if the Argos come up with enough loot . . .

Another NEA All-American, John Small of The Citadel, could be the first nonquarterback selected in the pro draft next February . . . "He's the best linebacker available this year," says one pro scout, "and should be one of the first five picked." . . . Sam Walton of the New York Jets isn't the only athlete pulling off a disappearing act. Heavyweight Buster Mathis has gone the same route . . .

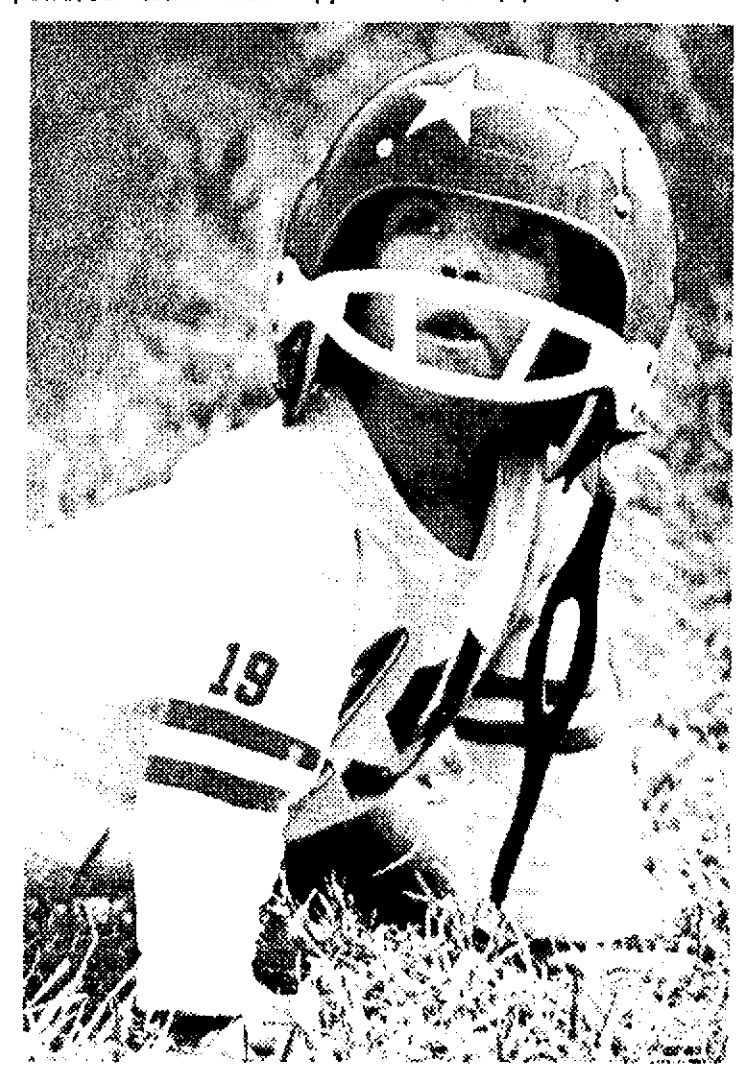

The National League is "looking frantically," according to one source, for black umpires and has begun to develop promising prospects of its own at an Empire Instructional School in Florida . . . The story behind the sudden slump of a talented young pro quarterback is a problem at home. His wife and pills . . .

Jess Phillips of the Cincinnati Bengals, who has the best rushing average in the AFL, confirmed a hunch Paul Brown had all last season: Phillips was a defensive back last season. Brown liked his speed and switched him to running back in training camp . . .

"WHADDAYA MEAN, OFF SIDEST?" Flag football is serious gridiron sport for members of the "Grasscutters" league at the Kingsport, Tenn., boys' club. Each 6-to-8-year-old player carries a flag in his belt and a ball-carrier is considered "down" when an opponent gets his flag. The league was organized to teach younger boys the fundamentals of football.

Club Hears About Plant Expansion

The announced expansion of Standard Generator, subject to approval by voters on February 3, was the subject of the Rotary Club program presented by Dr. Lester Sitzes on December 12 at the Town and Country. From the local industry Bob Tolleson, manager, and Gene Fravell were special guests, and the club was told of the growth of Standard Generator since it came to Hope a few short years ago. Future plans include the use of more skilled labor.

Another club guest, James H. Pilkinton, and Rotarian Robert LaGrone discussed the Act 9 bond issue to be voted on February 3 by local citizens, making possible the proposed $450,000 expansion. It is a revenue bond and carries no additional taxes in its proposition.

Chamber of Commerce President George Frazier, also a club guest, spoke briefly about the over-all industrial picture of Hope, and led the group in a prayer of thanks for Hope's good fortune in that respect.

President Benny Coleman presided over the meeting and called on treasurer Webb Laseter for a financial report. He also welcomed two visiting Rotarians, Byron Thompson of Nashville and John T. McRae of Prescott, and the several guests that included Dan Northcutt of Nashville.

WR to Meet With Labor Secretary

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller plans to meet with Labor Secretary George Shultz on his next trip to Washington to talk about receiving additional funds for prison improvement programs.

Rockefeller said during a news conference that followed a business session of the Republican Governors Conference in Hot Springs Saturday that he and Shultz were to discuss the method of obtaining additional funds available under the Manpower Development Act. The act was designed to provide job training programs.

The governor said he had been criticized "because of the number of pardons and paroles we've given," but he said more could be granted to the benefit of convicts without detriment to society if the state had a more effective system of supervising paroles.

"Instead of sending men to prison to be supported by society under a correctional system that does little or nothing to make them constructive persons, give them job skills or keep them from being recidivist, many of our judges would give suspended sentences if they knew these men would be under the supervision of an adequately staffed parole system," Rockefeller said.

Blames GOPs for Financial Difficulties

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Charles D. Matthews, chairman of the Democratic State Committee says the "state's financial difficulties are directly traceable to the poor administration of the Republican controlled state departments."

Matthews Saturday questioned whether the legislature would approve Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's proposed tax increase in light of financial difficulties of the Revenue Department. Matthews made the remarks in a memorandum to all Democratic members of the state legislature.

"As long as the people are aware of how their tax money is being wasted away, the governor's slick campaign against the General Assembly can never succeed," Matthews said.

He pointed to several items he defined as irregularities in the Revenue Department.

system actuarially sound. Besides his expertise, the 60-year-old Mills has gained the respect of his fellow congressmen, since he entered the House in 1939, because of his total dedication to propriety.

He has no outside financial holdings and he always uses the standard $1,000 income tax deductions, even though it must cost him substantially. "I never want anybody to be able to say I took advantage of some provision I put into the (tax) code," he has said.

Says Murders Planned to Instill Fear

LOS ANGELES (AP) — One of the five persons charged with murdering Sharon Tate and four others says the killings were planned to "instill fear in man" — and that the victims' identity was unknown to the slayers.

Susan Atkins, 21, made the statement in a 6,000-word story under her byline in Sunday's Los Angeles Times.

Lawrence Schiller, a freelance writer whose byline appears on the copyright story with hers, told newsmen he and another journalist whom he didn't identify produced the story by editing tape recordings of jail conversations with Miss Atkins.

The article says the group killed the pregnant, 26-year-old actress and four of her friends at her estate Aug. 9 without knowing who they were.

They learned the victims' names the next day in a news-cast, Miss Atkins' account says. "We watched the news-cast and it kind of—it really helped me to know that the people were as important as they were. It blew my mind."

"There was a comment made by one of us that what had happened had served its purpose. That was to instill fear in man himself, man, the establishment."

"That's what it was done for. . . . To also show the black man how to go about taking over the white man."

Miss Atkins says that after the group shot and stabbed the five, she soaked a towel in blood and smeared the word "Pig" on a door as one of the others asked her to. As she approached the actress' body she says, she thought of Miss Tate's baby, who would have been born in a few weeks.

"And I flashed. Wow, there's a living being in there. . . . I knew it was living. . . . I knew it wouldn't live."

The baby, a boy, might have lived if delivered soon after Miss Tate died, the coroner has said.

During recent grand jury hearings Miss Atkins said through her lawyer that the hypnotic power of Charles M. Manson persuaded her to join his wandering, hippie-style group. Manson, 35, also has been indicted on murder charges.

Miss Atkins' attorney, Richard Caballero could not be reached for comment on her story. However he said earlier

To Have More Responsibility

SWEET HOME, Ark. (AP) — William "Sonny" Walker, who will take over in January as director of the state Office of Economic Opportunity, says he believes states will assume more responsibility in the OEO program, but that he does not think state government will dominate the program in the future.

Walker, who says many people have a misconception about the function of OEO, explained that the main purpose of the agency is to coordinate activities to fight poverty.

He also said some persons have the wrong idea about how much money the OEO spends. He said the agency spends about $2 billion of the $25 billion spent annually to fight poverty.

Biggest Ship Ever Sunk Goes Under

ROTTERDAM (AP) — The 207,000-ton Dutch supertanker Marpassa became the biggest ship ever sunk when she went down early today off the West African coast.

The Marpassa, owned by Royal Dutch Shell, was ripped by an explosion and fire last Friday. The crewmen put out the blaze, but water poured into the engine room and the tanker began to sink stern first. Ocean tugs tried to save her, but the ship sank 50 miles northwest of Dakar.

Two crewmen were injured in the explosion and two were reported missing. The survivors were taken aboard the British tanker Serenla Saturday. It was not known what caused the explosion.

The ship sank while en route to the Persian Gulf after delivering her first cargo of crude oil in Rotterdam. The Marpassa was built in Japan and delivered to Shell on Sept. 30. Because her cargo tanks were empty, the sinking did not raise a pollution problem.

Black Pickets Demonstrate for Governors

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Pickets representing two causes peacefully demonstrated in a park across from the Arlington Hotel here during the National Republican Governors' Conference Saturday.

One group was protesting U. S. involvement in the Vietnam war and the other was demonstrating against discrimination against blacks.

John Paschall, 30, a Hot Springs high school industrial arts instructor, headed the Negro group of about 30, composed of members and supporters of the Committee for the Liberation of Blacks (CLOB).

One white anti-Vietnam group was led by Miss Bettis Davis, 25, of Little Rock, and the other by Sonny Keys of Bentonville. The Keys groups was composed of University of Arkansas students. There were about 20 protesters demonstrating against U.S. involvement in the war.

Three Killed on Arkansas Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Three persons were killed in traffic accidents on the Arkansas highways during the 54-hour weekend period.

The Associated Press count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

The victims:
—William Kennedy, 25, of De Queen who was killed Friday night when the car he was driving struck a bridge railing about five miles west of De Queen on U.S. 70.

—James McCarty, 18, of Cave Springs who was killed Friday night when the car in which he was riding overturned during a police chase on a county road about two miles west of Cave Springs.

—John Robert Sap, 18, of Searcy died Saturday, hours after his motorcycle was struck by a car at the Newport city limits.

Appeal Case Rejected by High Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today rejected an appeal from a Phillips County Circuit Court decision which upheld the sale of farm property contested by some of the seller's children.

The seller, Mrs. Thelma P. Heskett, a widow in her late 50s, sold a half-interest in the Phillips County farm to Kenny L. Bryant and his wife, Bettye, in October 1967.

Bettye was the oldest daughter of Mrs. Heskett. The sale was for $22,000 and a promise by the Bryants to provide Mrs. Heskett with the necessities of life. The deed was made two days before the second of two operations for cancer.

Two other children, John P. Heskett, a Baptist minister at Waco, Tex., and Ann Heskett Hale, also of Texas, asked that the court void the deal on grounds of fraud and abuse of confidential relationship.

Mrs. Heskett's husband had managed the farm property until his death in 1962. The record of the trial showed that Bryant gave up another job and became manager in exchange for half of the profits about two years prior to his purchase of the land from Mrs. Heskett. John and Ann contended that Bryant had told her that the property was appraised at $22,000 when actually it was worth $100,000. John Heskett said he learned of the transaction from Mrs. Heskett while he was taking her to the hospital for her second operation.

The record showed that in November, after Mrs. Heskett got out of the hospital, her son told her that the Bryants had given her false information.

In December, Mrs. Heskett went to Texas to visit her son and her youngest daughter and she died March 11, 1967.

Heskett testified that she had said she would rather abide by the contract even at a loss of the $100,000 than have to go through a court proceeding and risk the loss of fellowship with her older daughter.

The high court said this testimony by Heskett showed that his mother found the deal acceptable despite whatever shortcomings the arrangement might have had and therefore, the sale was valid.

New Chairman Gets a Bit Confused

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The new chairman of the Republican Governors' Conference became a little confused geographically when questioned about the site of the next conference in May.

Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania was asked Saturday where the meeting would be held.

"I assume Phoenix," Shafer replied, looking puzzled at the laughter his answer evoked.

"Phoenix," he said and apparently realizing he had mistakenly moved the conference to a neighboring state.

"We're in New Mexico," he said firmly.

Gov. David Cargo of New Mexico said the event would be split between Santa Fe and Albuquerque.

are known by most of the other contestants in the frantic game.

The most common technique is to search the real estate section of the newspapers, particularly the massive section in the Sunday New York Times. Old pros will tell you the section can be obtained in certain locations as early as Thursday and is readily available on Saturday.

The sight of this seemingly endless selection of first-class listings, but, after combing the columns for ads that match his aims in size, costs and locations, the seeker takes the greatly reduced list and a handful of dimes to the nearest telephone. There he probably will find most of the openings were taken days ago.

Those romantic or artistic souls who seek a place in Greenwich Village are directed to the ads in the weekly Village Voice. The eager apartment hunter then joins the early Thursday morning queue at the stand where the Voice first is distributed.

Unless he came with the street sweeper he'll find himself well back in a line of hunters who pay their money and wait to grab the condos as they come off the truck and race to the nearest phone booth. Chances are, when the seeker finally gets through to the apartment manager, after numerous busy signals, the apartment he wanted already is taken.

After days or weeks, depending on his patience, the home seeker either revises his rent limit upward, his desires in a home downward, or settles for an area of the city a little less desirable.

Or he could give in and resort to a broker easier on the nerves and more reliable probably but it means a loss of face among those who "did it on my own." It also costs more money. A month's rent used to be the standard fee, but it's going up.

"Ten per cent of a year's rent is the legal limit, but I know some brokers are charging 15," said one broker who only asked 10 per cent.

By one means or another, the newcomer eventually finds a place and settles in, scarred but wiser, and waits to greet the next greenhorn with, "Found a place to live yet?"

The new 24-man cabinet has seven new faces, is younger and is considered more hawkish than its predecessor. There was only one surprise, the appointment of Brig. Gen. Ezer Weizman transport minister. Weizman, 45, has been, chief of military operations. He is a brother-in-law of Defense Minister Moshe Dayan.

Dayan and Foreign Minister Abba Eban retained their posts, and Yigal Allon returned as deputy premier.

The new coalition has 102 votes in the 120-member Knesset.

In her policy speech, Mrs. Meir warned that no amount of "international pressure" or acts of Arab terror would force Israel back to the situation it was in before the 1967 war.

The silent majority struck again in Marblehead, Mass., a few days ago when irate citizens pressured the local school committee into rescinding a ban against school observances of Christmas.

The school committee, doubtless concerned about the tender sensibilities of Marblehead atheists and unbelievers, had earlier decided that "All reference to the word Christmas will be eliminated in group activities planned in all Marblehead schools."

The aroused citizenry won that round. But alas, there will be no conquering the Post Office, which this year decided its Christmas stamp would bear nothing more religious than a winter scene, thereby preventing the government from offending any group except the Phoenix Chamber of Commerce.

Nevertheless, we are encouraged to note that despite the official disfavor into which Christmas is falling, the White House Christmas tree will be lighted again this year. Or at least we haven't heard it won't be. And that's good. Even if the tree does conjure up sectarian images of sleigh bells and Santa Claus, it's at least awfully pretty to look at. — Dallas (Tex.) ### Perilous Life

What we on the inside have always known has now been confirmed by an unexpected source.

A newsmen's life not only is not easy, it's more than likely not even very long. Some occupational research in Poland, as reported from Warsaw by the official news agency PAP, places journalism among the most hazardous professions.

The hazards are not, however, as might be expected, the wars, riots, crime and assorted other natural and human catastrophes that are the reporter's normal beat. He is being done in instead by such prosaic complaints as circulation and respiratory disorders, stomach trouble, nervous tension and two uniquely occupational hazards—hearing and vision impairment resulting from overexposure to respectively, noisy teletypes and bright television lights.

The cumulative effect, reports PAP, is such that "only 20 newsmen in 100 have a chance of reaching retirement age." Now we feel really put upon. All this and Spiro, too. — Savannah (Ga.) Evening Press

Junk Mail By The Pound

Hardly a day passes that does not bring complaints of unwanted junk mail. It burdens the delivery men and angers the recipients.

To Miss Jean Fuller of Tacoma, Washington, goes the credit for compiling something of a record of the amount the average person receives, assuming that Miss Fuller is about the average man's client. She kept her unsolicited mail for a year and had a weigh-in. What she termed her accumulation of junk amounted to 33 pounds.

Her project affords some small idea of the tons and tons of unwanted mail that swamps the nation's post offices year in and year out. And up to now nobody has come up with a workable plan of placing a check on it. — Greenville (S.C.) News.

Legislature Call Set for February

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Saturday in Hot Springs that he intends to call the legislature into session in February to deal with fiscal matters.

He said there was not enough time for a special session before the constitutional convention reconvenes Jan. 12. The convention will occupy the House chamber for 30 days.

Rockefeller said during an interview at the National Republican Governors' Conference that he needs additional time to prepare material for the legislature to consider during the session.

The governor is expected to ask the legislature for about $25 million in new taxes.

Israeli to Keep Land Occupied

By MARCUS ELIASON
Associated Press Writer

JERUSALEM (AP) — Premier Golda Meir presented her new coalition government to the Israeli Parliament today and pledged that Israel will hold on to the Arab Territory it occupied in the 1967 war until peace comes to the Middle East.

The 71-year-old woman leader said, however, that Israel will never despair of seeking peace with its Arab neighbors.

She blasted the Soviet Union, charging it with supplying arms for the Arabs to use in attempting to destroy Israel. She said since the 1967 war the Russians have furnished Egypt $2 billion worth of military equipment and Syria and Iraq $600 million worth.

She said the Russians are not interested in a peaceful settlement in the Middle East, for "without tension in the area the chief reason for Soviet influence in it would disappear." She also attacked France for refusing to deliver the 50 Mirage jet fighters Israel purchased and Britain for reneging on an agreement to sell Israel Chieftain tanks.

Mrs. Meir stressed Israel's long friendship with the United States but spoke of a "contradiction" in last week's policy

New York Newcomers Are Admitted Quickly to Endless Advice Club

NEW YORK (AP) — People in big cities are reputed to be cold and unfriendly to strangers, but newcomers to New York gain instant membership in a club that entitles them to endless sympathy and advice.

The group is the "Hunting for a Home Club," a fellowship of blood, sweat and tears shared by nearly everyone of moderate or lower income who has tried to find a place to live in this city where living space is one of the rarest commodities.

The newcomer is welcomed into the club by his new fellow workers, by deskmen and tell-boys at the hotel he uses as a base while hunting and by others who learn of his status.

Major Moves Made to Resolve Conflicts in Tax Reform Measure

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two major moves to resolve the House-Senate conflicts over massive tax reform legislation confronted Congress today as efforts began to reach a compromise before Christmas.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., said Sunday the Treasury Department had prepared an alternative plan for increasing the personal income tax exemption and would offer it to the conference committee on tax reform.

The House scheduled a vote on a separate bill increasing Social Security benefits by 15 percent. The Senate tacked on these benefits in a rider to its tax reform bill but went further, boosting the minimum monthly payment from $55 to $100.

The center of action this week is the conference committee, where moves are expected to scale down the new Social Security benefits and tax slashes the Senate added during floor debate.

One of the biggest issues of about 100 substantial differences will be whether to grant tax relief to the nation's 70 million taxpayers through a cut in rates, as voted by the House, or by an increase in the exemption from $600 to $800, as voted by the Senate.

Many leaders expect the conference will hammer out a combination of increased personal exemptions and tax rate reductions to begin after 1970. President Nixon promised to veto the measure if it contains the costly Social Security and tax exemption provisions written in the Senate.

Gore, a conference committee member who led the Senate fight to increase the income tax exemption, said he had learned the Treasury would offer its plan on behalf of the Nixon administration.

Lawmakers were uncertain whether Nixon objected to the increase in the exemption or the fact that Gore's amendment would make it effective next year and in 1971, thus putting an almost immediate strain on the Treasury.

The conferees also had scheduled the issue of taxing private foundations for consideration. The House voted a 7½ percent tax on the income of such foundations but the Senate came up with a lower levy on the assets of the foundations as a fee to pay the cost of administering regulations or foundation activities.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the conference committee, said it will push hard for final disposition of the bill before the hoped-for pre-Christmas adjournment. Mills added, however, he could not guarantee success.

Cold Front Threat to Mild Days

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A cold front approaching Arkansas through Southwest Missouri poses the only threat to the mild, sunny weather the state enjoyed through the weekend.

The front, expected by the U.S. Weather Bureau to move across the state today, will bring cooler air and increased cloudiness to the state.

No rain has fallen in the state during the 24-hour period ending at 6:30 a.m. today and the only precipitation forecast for today is in the extreme northeast where the Weather Bureau said a slight chance of rain mixed with snow exists.

Overnight lows around the state included 40 at Harrison and Blytheville, 32 at Fayetteville and Jonesboro, 39 at Pine Bluff, 41 at Texarkana, 35 at El Dorado, 33 at Memphis, 37 at Little Rock and 31 at Fort Smith.

Hempstead County and the city of Hope have got a good thing going. For a number of years now they have been collecting gifts for the patients at Benton State Hospital.

Under the leadership of Hempstead County Sheriff Jimmie Griffin and Mr. Haskell Jones, manager of Radio Station KXAR, and with the help of police chief Alvin Willis and fire chief Jim Cobb, an appeal is made to the people of Hope and Hempstead County for clothing, shoes, hats, blankets, costume jewelry — anything which would be useful or brighten the lives of patients at the hospital.

How well do they do? This year they started their drive on Monday, December 1st, and on Wednesday, December 8th, they delivered two truckloads of gifts to the hospital. A one-and-a-half ton truck and a one-ton truck were full to the tops of their high sideboards with boxes crammed with all sorts of goodies — shoes (many of them new), clothing including suits, dresses, jewelry, blankets and hats. A lot of patients at Benton State Hospital will be better dressed this Christmas because of the kindness and thoughtfulness of the people of Hempstead County and the hard work of a small group of dedicated men, and for a patient in a mental hospital one of the most important things is just knowing that "someone out there cares about me."

It's no problem — there was plenty of help including Dr. Walter S. Mizell, psychiatric services administrator and Mr. Willis Ricketts, hospital administrator. At first there were three or four patients helping to unload, but suddenly there were at least ten or twelve helpers. The biggest problem was to keep some of the helpers from stopping to make their personal selection of a new suit or hat immediately and to

Can't Bar Negroes, Court Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled 5 to 3 today that Negro homeowners may not be barred from recreation facilities open to their white neighbors.

Their right, said Justice William O. Douglas, stems from an 1866 civil rights law and if they are denied access they may sue in state or federal courts.

The decision does not cover private social clubs.

Rather, it covers swimming pools and other facilities shared by families that own homes in a particular suburban area.

The ruling was given in a case from suburban Fairfax County, Va., where a Negro family was denied use of a subdivision's recreation facility, Little Hunt Park.

The operators maintained the park and swimming pool were private and Negroes did not have legal right of entry. The Negro family and the white family which leased the home to the Negroes sued for damages but lost in Virginia courts.

Douglas said the court majority: See CAN'T BAR

Compensation Pay Upheld by Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today upheld judgments of Arkansas County Circuit Court and the state Workmen's Compensation Commission that an employee was entitled to compensation for injuries received when he was assaulted on the job.

Townsend Paneling Inc., of Stuttgart had appealed the ruling handed down under Judge Joe Rhodes in favor of Cusley Butler, 64, of Stuttgart, a nine-year Townsend employee who was injured Jan. 29, 1968.

Butler, who was operating a rip saw machine, said Wilson apparently was angry because he had not accepted Wilson's offer of a bet and had told Wilson to go back to his task of stacking lumber. Wilson said that Butler had agreed to the bet but declined to pay when he lost. The stake in the proposed bet was 25 cents.

The Supreme Court said the commission had stated the proper rule regarding compensation for injuries resulting from on the job assaults when it held that they "are compensable where the assault is casually related to the employment, but that such injuries are not compensable where the assault arises out of purely personal reasons."

Nixon Will Announce 3rd Withdrawal

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is expected to announce a third round of U.S. troop withdrawals from Vietnam when he speaks to the nation tonight in an updated report on his efforts to end the war.

The White House said the brief speech, to be carried live by network television and radio at 6 p.m. EST, will be an extension of the President's Nov. 3 nationwide address in which he outlined his plans for bringing the fighting to a close.

Nixon had said during his last news conference a week ago today he would announce another American troop pullout from the war zone by Christmas.

Nixon made no estimate then of the number of U.S. troops to come out of Vietnam and the White House in announcing this latest speech did not mention any figures, but widespread speculation has placed the total at 30,000 to 40,000.

So far, the administration has pulled out about 63,000 troops from the war zone, which means some 40,000 more must be withdrawn if Nixon is to meet the 100,000-man reduction goal he has set for this year.

Miller Leads Fatalities in Hope District

The monthly statistical review of traffic accidents for November in Southwest Arkansas was released today by State Police Captain Milton Mosier, commander of the Hope District. Mosier said that statewide, traffic deaths claimed the lives of 115 persons in November. He said this compares to 80 deaths for November of 1968, or a reduction of 25 deaths. Eleven of the 55 fatalities occurred in the 12 counties composing the Hope District.

According to the report, Miller County recorded 4 traffic fatalities, Nevada County reported 2, and the counties of Columbia, Howard, Lafayette, Little River, and Sevier recorded 1 each. 1 death each occurred in the city of Texarkana and Emerson.

Mosier said troopers assigned to the Hope District investigated 123 accidents during November. He said troopers cited failure to yield and inattention as the leading causes of the 123 accidents.

Miller County recorded the highest rate, with 15 accidents in November. Little River recorded 14 accidents, Nevada 12, Polk 10, Sevier 9, Pike 8, Howard and Lafayette 5 each, and Montgomery County 2 accidents during November.

Statewide, Mosier said troopers investigated 980 accidents. Excessive speed was cited as the leading cause of traffic accidents. Mosier urged motorists to drive with extreme caution during the approaching Christmas season. He said the true spirit of Christmas could be lost in a split second lapse of good judgement, which oftentimes results in a traffic accident.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — With the approach of the holidays, children's shows are very big with the television networks. NBC and CBS presented two specials over the weekend, both primarily designed for the young audience.

"Hans Brinker and the Silver Skates," a famous and familiar children's book, was reconstructed as a two-hour musical for NBC Sunday night.

"J.T.," the first of four specials in CBS's new "Children's Hour" was a mid-day offering of CBS Saturday. It was an unusual and often perceptive story about a young Negro growing up in a tough slum.

The 100-year-old story of Hans Brinker was full of fascinating film shot in Holland in winter and part of the show seemed like an extemporaneous ice show. The story was heavy with plot and, since it was acted seriously, was often quite painful—as when the impoverished Brinker children were being taunted and snubbed by a nasty little snob.

The two hours did demonstrate that not all stories are susceptible to musical adaptation. The production numbers seemed to be dragged in by the heels and the principals had a way of bursting into song—pretty forgettable tunes—in a most awkward fashion. Actually, they detracted from the total.

The tale is set in the 1830s in a town near Amsterdam and the show benefited by the period sets and quaint costumes. Hans and the silver skates—a prize in a skating race—were only incidental to the story about how Hans persuaded a famous surgeon to operate on his ailing father.

Eleanor Parker played the mother and Richard Basehart was the doctor, but the show belonged to a young British actor, Robin Askwith, who played Hans as such a good, sober, unselfish boy that he deserved the happy ending.

"J.T." was the little boy who in the opening scene was shown stealing a transistor radio from a car. After that we followed him, cinema verite style, around rubbish-littered streets and up the stairs of a shabby tenement. The story was about J.T. finding a sick cat, attempting to nurse it and feed it back to health, only to have it die. Then, a gift of a kitten he at first rejected, changed his attitudes.

Children may have taken the story at face value, but it has facets—the grim slum surroundings, black-white relationships, the lack of a father in the home—that adult viewers could appreciate. The one wrong note was the pat windup, with J.T., saddened by the cat's death, returning the stolen radio and then suddenly being imbued with Christmas spirit.

Kevin Hooks, young son of actor Robert Hooks, played the title role. He was most appealing as the shy, silent little boy. His mother was played by Jeanette Du Bois in a way to show the tension and fatigue of the family breadwinner.

It was a curiously adult program for a young audience, but it was ambitious and of high quality.

In spite of the good spirit shown, there was something a little sad about Leslie Uggams' final program Sunday night on CBS after her short—10 week—series. The hour was as usual loaded with music, punctuated by comedy. The star sings well, has an ingratiating manner and introduces the same guest stars we see on all the other variety shows. Why did her show go? It will be interesting to see if Glen Campbell's variety hour, which replaces her next week, can do better. It could be that the problem was not her show, but a surfeit of variety hours, complicated in this case by the tough competition by "Bonanza."

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

With the playing of Christmas music and decorations of the Yuletide, including 4 kinds of Christmas trees, the Hope B&PW Club had a Christmas party Thursday night, December 11 at the Diamond.

Two special guests provided a most enjoyable program for the festivities. Lisa Howell, a Nike Club member, told an inspiring story, "On That Night," and Verla Jones put everyone into the spirit of the season by singing "Silver Bells" and "The Meaning of Christmas." Mrs. Jones, accompanied by the piano by Eva Reynerson, then, led everyone in singing a medley of Christmas songs.

President Mary Andrews dispensed with formal business matters except to announce a board meeting for January 10-11. She also welcomed the guests that also included Mrs. Garland Dillard and Mrs. Coy Breeding. With the help of Margie Vickers and Velora Bright, Christmas gifts were exchanged by the 32 at the party. Vice-President Rachael Edmiston was in charge of the arrangements for the party, assisted by all committee chairmen.

Decor Key Is Carpet

The foundation of any good decorating scheme is just that—its foundation or floor. The type of floor covering you select should be determined by the room's function, amount of traffic, insulation and sound-proofing needs and your personal preference. With today's miracle fabrics—they don't spot and need very little care—wall-to-wall carpeting can be as practical in the bath or kitchen as it is in other rooms.

facts of life faced by major toy companies can be exemplified in his own operation, according to this industry spokesman.

Over the past five years, the company has expanded its product line more than 50 per cent and now offers such technically complex items as a doll that turns somersaults, a talking astronaut base and a school bus with automatic doors.

To design such toys, a large, well-paid staff of engineers and technicians is employed in the research and development department. Robbins refers to them as "creative engineers."

"Some toy industry engineers," he said, "are so expert that they are capable of designing jet aircraft."

To produce extremely sophisticated toys on a mass basis also requires the purchase and maintenance of highly expensive injection molding machines that make the toys' component parts. The cost of these machines has risen nearly 30 per cent over the past five years.

In today's self-service retailing, packaging has become a major factor in the merchandising of toys. And the cost of packaging has risen four times in the course of one year, according to Robbins.

"Practically speaking, the best toys cost the most money," he said. "The real test is to ask a parent to choose, regardless of price, the toy he would like to buy. In most cases, the higher-priced toy is selected. And that's simply because it's the best toy."

Parents often attack today's ultrarealistic toys by citing the fact that they played with general household objects when they were kids and that this stimulated the imagination. According to Robbins, playing with cigar boxes and clothespins simply represents a return to the depression era.

"Today," he said, "children can play with a selection of toys directly related to the world around them. These toys stimulate their imaginations and fulfill their normal fantasies in ways that using crude materials never could do."

"The industry is just as frustrated as anyone else about spiraling prices. But the toy industry isn't the only industry putting things out at a high price."

"Consumers accept the higher prices of other industries and they should be willing to accept ours, considering the superior values we offer."

So the kids can walk on a toyland moon, shoot a toy rocket and operate a toy voice-control astronaut base as long as mom and dad have enough of the green stuff to buy these toys.

Today, more than ever, toyland is "dear" little boy and girl land.

Cost-Profit Squeeze Hits Toymaking Elves

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Victor Herbert immortalized toyland as "dear little girl and boy land." He didn't know what a prophet he was. It is indeed "dear."

With each Christmas season, the price of toys increases. It's difficult to find a toy for under $10 and no trouble at all to find one at $20 or over.

Does this mean that the toymakers laugh all the way to the bank? "Not so," said Saul Robbins, chairman of the board of one of America's five top toy companies, Remco, and a spokesman for the industry.

Higher toy prices, Robbins explained, rather than indicating excessively high profits for toy manufacturers, reflect the increasingly costly process involved in designing, producing and marketing ultrasophisticated toys on a mass scale.

"Making and marketing a toy today is not a simple task performed by a handful of people," he said. "It is a large, complex team effort, involving hundreds of persons and the expenditure of substantial outlays of money."

"Parents object to paying today's prices, yet they demand stronger and better toys."

Even with higher prices, though, Robbins believes that today's toys deliver as much or even more than many other products in the same price range.

Typical of such excellent values is a battery telephone intercom set that sells for $7 or $8 as a toy. Yet the same item has been sold for $16 as an inexpensive intercom set by an electronics house.

"As much metal wiring goes into some electronic toys as goes into a real radio," Robbins said. "Yet the toys are priced far below the radio."

Bobcats to Entertain Hamburg

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Trying for a three-game winning streak, the Hope Bobcats face the Hamburg Lions Wednesday at 5 p.m. in the Southern State Invitational Tournament at Magnolia.

Both Hamburg and the Bobcats drew first-round byes, so the winner will move into the quarterfinals later in the week. A tough 51-46 road win at Foreman last Friday night pushed Hope's record to 4-2 so far, but the Lions will be a stern test of the Bobcats' progress so far.

Coach John Ross has lots of depth on this team (probably the best balanced team Hope has had since the early '60s) and actually has problems getting all the players into a game. John Dudley, the 6-6 sophomore center, missed the Foreman game because of a death in his family in Louisiana, but soph Lynn Norton stepped in and scored nine points after playing all the way in the "B" Lizards' 50-48 win at Mineral Springs last Thursday.

Another 10th grader, little 5-10 David Briggs, is gaining confidence in the backcourt after starting two games and scoring 21 points. And 5-11 junior Parker Powell hit six crucial free throws in the closing minutes at Foreman for 12 points, though he is still developing offensive consistency.

Senior Larry Muldrew, a 6-5 first-year basketball mauling into a confident starter, will have to hustle for rebounds against a tall Hamburg forward line. And fellow senior Ronny Brown at 6-0 still is looking strong on the rebound charts.

Depth is being provided by the footballers who are still coming on. Brown and Norton are joined by others like Roger Newton, Lee Davis, Steve Harris, Tim White, and Ronnie Massanelli in a long list of probable starters in any situation.

Of course, there are also people like Charles Rateliff and Tommy Webb, who have looked fine in action and have both started.

What the Bobcats will continue to strive for is good defense combined with a disciplined offensive attack devoid of mistakes. This, along with success on the backboards and lack of fouling, makes a winning ball club.

It will take that kind of mistake-free basketball also tomorrow night, when the unbeaten Prescott Curley Wolves come to Jones Field House for a showdown with the Bobcats.

Prescott won the last meeting 60-47 with a strong full-court press and good foot shooting doing the damage. Hope will expect that press again, but the Cats have experienced this several times since the earlier loss and should be better prepared.

The senior girls teams will start the action in the first game at 6:30 p.m., as the Hope Lady Cats try to bounce back from two straight close losses of 49-41 and 47-44 to Gurdon.

A&M Coach Has Resigned Post

MONTICELLO, Ark. (AP) — Bill Calaway has resigned as head football coach at Arkansas A&M, but will remain as athletic director, a position he has held in addition to his coaching duties.

Calaway will be replaced by Bill Groce, his chief defensive assistant. Calaway has been the A&M coach for four years, winning one conference championship outright and tying for another.

Texas Tech Tumbles From Unbeaten List

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Texas Tech, which tumbled from the unbeaten ranks last week, tries to keep its head above water against Arizona tonight in the only game involving a Southwest Conference basketball team.

The Raiders started last week's schedule with a 2-0 standard but ran into the likes of Colorado and New Mexico to close out last Saturday with a 3-2 mark. Tech whipped Oklahoma 66-64 last Monday.

SWC teams played a bush schedule of 21 games last week winning only nine to fall behind interconference competition 16-2. Texas, the pre-season choice, also started last week unbeaten with a 2-0 record but finished the week 3-2 after a futile West Coast trip that included losses to California (Santa Barbara) 100-85 and second ranked UCLA 99-54.

The Baylor bears moved into a three-way tie for the early season lead with victories over the University of Texas at Arlington 98-79 and Southwest Louisiana, 95-68.

Texas, Tech, and Baylor all have 3-2 records followed by Texas Christian and Rice at 2-2, Texas A&M and SMU at 1-3 and Arkansas 1-4.

In other games this week Colorado State is at Texas A&M Tuesday and Texas goes to Oklahoma.

Porkers Win Over Texas of Arlington

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — The University of Arkansas basketball team scored its first victory in five tries Saturday night, whipping the University of Texas Arlington 85-73.

The Razorbacks and the Rebels were tied 42-42 at the half, but the Razorbacks pulled away during the final 20 minutes. Arkansas went ahead to stay 54-52 with 14 minutes remaining in the final half.

Almer Lee led the Arkansas scoring with 19 points and Robert McKenzie added 17 points. Bobby Vint came off the bench and contributed 15 points. Vernon Murphy added 12 and James Eldridge 10.

Sherman Evans paced the Rebels with 31 points. The Razorbacks will compete in the Bayou Classic Friday and Saturday at Lafayette, La.

Substitute QB Has Very Memorable Day

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — The final performance of Arkansas State University's Wayne "Bubba" Crocker was a memorable one.

Crocker, a senior quarterback who has played behind James Hamilton for two years, came off the bench Saturday to guide the Indians to a 29-21 victory over Drake in the Pecan Bowl.

Crocker was pressed into action when Hamilton injured his ankle early in the first period. He finished the afternoon with 6 of 11 passes for 126 yards and two touchdowns and scored eight points himself on a touchdown and two-point conversion.

His performance netted him the selection as the outstanding offensive player of the game. "I hadn't been able to play much all year, but our players never let me forget that they had the greatest confidence in me," Crocker said. "They all ways let me know how much they thought of me anytime I came in, and there never was a dropoff. When you play with people like that, it's easy to be a winner."

"Crocker became a fan," said ASU Coach Bennie Ellender. "But we always knew he was a winner, and we have felt all along that he could do the job if we ever needed him to do it."

Baseball Players Share an Award
ST. LOUIS (AP) — Outfielder Tommie Agee of the New York Mets and pitcher Steve Carlton of the St. Louis Cardinals will share the J. Roy Stockton Award for outstanding achievement in baseball at the St. Louis Baseball Writers' dinner next month.

The Stockton prize, honoring the retired sports editor of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, has been divided equally among the Cardinals and other clubs, with nine each.

Alworth Sets Hope Player Named Co-Captain

By SHEILA MORAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Coach Clive Rush of the Boston Patriots is one man who has respect for the Houston Oilers, who are supposed to lose to the Oakland Raiders in an American Football League playoff match Saturday.

The Oilers wrapped up the regular season Sunday by scoring 10 points in the last four minutes to beat Boston 27-23 and Rush said afterwards:

"It was a strong effort by Houston which should help them in the playoffs."

Houston will need all the help it can get. Pete Beathard, playing with a foot injury, passed for two other touchdowns, including an eight-yarder to Jim Bierene to tie the score, and helped save his team the embarrassment of going into the playoffs with a losing record. The Oilers wound up 6-6-2 while Oakland, the winningest team in the AFL, defends its Western title with a 12-1-1 record.

The Raiders won their division by beating Kansas City in a 10-6 nail-biter Saturday. In Sunday games, the New York Jets, 10-4, whipped Miami 27-9 to give the Dolphins the worst record in the AFL, 3-10-1; San Diego, 8-6, pounded Buffalo, 4-10, 45-6 and Denver, 5-8-1, beat Cincinnati, 4-8-1, 27-16.

In the National Football League, Minnesota beat San Francisco 10-7; Detroit upset Los Angeles 28-0; Cleveland defeated St. Louis 27-21; Green Bay upended Chicago 21-3; Washington topped New Orleans 17-14; the New York Giants overpowered Pittsburgh 21-17, and Atlanta pounded Philadelphia 27-3. Dallas beat Baltimore 27-10 Saturday.

The Oilers play Oakland under the new playoff system which pits the Western Division champion against runnerup in the East. The Jets, defending world champions and Eastern Division winners, challenge Kansas City, No. 2 in the West, in the other playoff game. The winners meet for the league title on Jan. 4.

The players were never very happy about the new playoff system—they felt all along that if you win your division you should immediately play for the league title without the risk of getting knocked off by a second-place team.

Beathard entered the game in the second period with Boston leading 16-0 and was injured again in the final period after passing for the touchdown which tied it 23-23. Roy Gerela kicked the extra point and nine plays later added his second field goal. Beathard indicated he'll be ready for Oakland and said his injury Sunday was "a little sprain" to the ankle.

Joe Namath passed for two Jets' touchdowns in the first period against Miami and then retired to the bench to protect his wobbly knees for the Kansas City game. Jets' Coach Weeb Ewbank rested most of his stars "because our main object was not to get anybody else banged up."

Flanker Don Maynard and defensive end Jerry Philbin missed the game because of injuries. Cornerback John Dockery suffered a shoulder separation and Ewbank expressed hope he'll be okay by Saturday.

San Diego's Lance Alworth became the first man in pro football to catch a pass in 96 straight games when he caught a nine-yard toss from quarterback John Hadl during the Chargers' win over Buffalo. Alworth wound up the day with seven catches for 122 yards and a touchdown.

Denver ripped open a tight game by going ahead 17-16 early in the fourth period on Bobby Howfield's 51-yard field goal and clinched the victory when Pete Liske hit John Embree after moving the ball to the Bengal three with a 71-yard pass to Frank Quayle.

AM&N Wins Its Own Tournament

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas AM&N won its own invitational basketball tournament for the 13th consecutive time Saturday night, whipping Wiley College 112-104 in the finals.

AM&N, now 6-0 for the season, held a 62-48 lead at the half. Gerald Lockett paced the Golden Lions with 34 points. Johnny Taylor added 18 and Melvin Bonner 14. Larry Duckworth scored 10 points and pulled down 22 rebounds.

Ronnie Pitts led Wiley with 28 points.

Mississippi Valley State crushed Philander Smith 92-60 in the consolation game.

Junior Girls in Victory Over Gurdon

By BILL MOORE

In the first of two games Saturday night, the Hope Yegger Junior High Kitty Cats pushed their record to 2 and 3 by defeating the Gurdon Go-Devils, 34-25.

After a free throw by Julia Brown early in the first segment of play, Hope never trailed again. Brown scored seven points along with Janet McCain's two points, to give Hope a 9-2 lead beginning the second quarter.

Midway through the second quarter the Kitty Cats hit a cold streak and the half ended with Hope leading 18-12. Early in the third quarter, Gurdon narrowed the lead to four points, but that is as close as they could get. Points by Brown, Coleman, and McCain widened the margin to 25-16 going into the fourth quarter.

Coleman hit two field goals for an eleven point lead and four more points finished the game 34-25.

Much credit must also be given to Debbie Crank, Betty Honeycutt, and Judy Reyenga for their defensive effort. Others seeing some action were Carol Frazier, Mona Rowe, Rebecca Stuart, Donna McClendon, and Carol Hobson.

For the Kittycats Brown netted 13 points, McCain 11, Coleman 8, and Willis 2.

In the second game, the Hope Ladycats were trimmed by the Go-Devils, 47-44; lowering their record to 1 and 6 for the season.

During the first three minutes the score was tied four times, but Gurdon broke away scoring nine points while holding the Ladycats to one. The first quarter ended with Gurdon leading 17-9.

Early in the second period, Singleton and Millican narrowed the gap to five points but a cold streak left Gurdon in front, 24-17, at the half.

Gurdon stretched their lead to eleven points in the early minutes of the second half until Singleton hit a field goal, Marianne Allen hit two buckets for Gurdon to widen the lead but with 2:01 left, Betty Rodden and Belinda East hit points to bring the third quarter to a close with Hope still trailing, 36-26.

In the fourth quarter, Singleton and Belinda East combined for fifteen points in the last six minutes in a comeback effort that fell three points short.

Totalling up the points Dee Singleton had 21, Belinda East 14, Betty Rodden 7, and Mary Beth Millican 2.

Defensive performers were Sharon East, Cindy Hollis, and Betty Rodden, along with Becky Brown and Renee Quillin.

The top scorers for Gurdon were Marianne Allen and Kay Covington with 15 points each.

Old Man of Hockey Is at It Again

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Old Man is at it again. Gordie Howe who scored 44 goals last season but didn't manage any against Montreal, reminded the Canadiens that he's still around the National Hockey League Sunday night.

Howe, playing his 24th NHL season at the age of 41, scored two goals and Frank Mahovlich also notched a pair, leading Detroit to a 5-2 victory over the Canadiens.

The two goals ran Howe's career total to 745 — 201 more than Montreal's immortal Maurice Richard, who still holds second place on the alltime scoring list.

In other games Sunday night, Toronto topped New York 3-1, Boston edged Pittsburgh 3-1, and Chicago trimmed Philadelphia 4-1.

In Saturday's action, New York dumped Minnesota 5-2, Detroit downed Toronto 3-1, Montreal clipped Chicago 4-1, Boston dropped Philadelphia 5-3 and St. Louis walloped Los Angeles 8-1.

Howe's two goals ran his total for the season to 13 and the right winger twice narrowly missed collecting a third goal.

Both of Mahovlich's goals came on rebounds of Howe shots stopped by Montreal's Rogation Vachon. Howe, Mahovlich and their center, Alex Delevecchio, accounted for 16 of the 34 shots the Red Wings took at Vachon. Wayne Connolly had Detroit's other goal.

The loss dropped the Canadiens into third place in the East Division behind Boston. Montreal remained four points behind the pace-setting Rangers, who also lost.

Boston used a goal by defenseman Gary Doak to break a second period tie and then held on to beat Pittsburgh.

Doak, the Bruins' fifth defenseman, was taking his first turn of the night with both teams a man short when he caromed a shot off Penguin goalie Al Smith's stick and into the net for Boston's game-winner.

Just over a minute before Doak scored, Derek Sanderson had tied the score for Boston. Ken Schinkel had the Penguins' goal.

Rookie Cliff Koroll scored three goals and Bobby Hull had his seventh of the year as Chicago rapped Philadelphia.

Koroll scored two of his goals 42 seconds apart in the third period as the Black Hawks finally busted through against Doug Favell. Favell, playing only his fourth game of the season in the Flyer nets, kicked out 38 shots.

Denis DeJordy, making his first start in goal for Chicago since Oct. 22, blocked 23 Philadelphia shots but lost his shut-out with less than six minutes to play when Andre Lacroix scored for the Flyers.

Baseball Negotiations Continue

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — "We see no end in sight at this moment."

With those words, Marvin Miller, armed with a new three-year contract as executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association, summed up the latest round of fruitless negotiations between the players and club owners.

After two days of talks, which Miller said was to hear "a detailed report on the (owner) committee's latest offer," the two sides were described Sunday as "nowhere near agreement."

A strike over pension benefits and other benefits last year delayed the opening of spring training for most players. There was no word on whether it might come down to a strike again, but Miller complained about what he called "a lack of progress" after 15 meetings.

Neither Miller nor Tom Haller of the Los Angeles Dodgers, representing the National League, would go into details of the meetings. "I don't think it would be helpful," Miller said.

But the more important topics were believed to include the number of games in a season, reserve clause, minimum salary and grievance procedure.

Sunday's session included a meeting between the players and Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

Alcindor Is Outplaying Elvin Hayes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Alcindor continues to upstage Hayes in probasketball's Lew and Elvin show.

Rookie Alcindor of the Milwaukee Bucks outdueled Hayes for the third time in as many meetings this season and led the Bucks to a 118-105 victory over San Diego in the National Basketball Association Sunday night.

Alcindor, the 7-foot-2 sensation from UCLA, poured in 32 points as the Bucks won their third straight game. Although outscored, Hayes held a 16-7 rebounding margin over Alcindor.

In other NBA games Sunday, the Los Angeles Lakers beat Seattle 131-127, Cincinnati outlasted Phoenix 137-130 in two overtimes and Philadelphia defeated Chicago 126-121.

Small Schools Settle Grid Question

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The major colleges are still engaged in a verbal scrimmage over who should be No. 1, but the smaller schools have settled that question on the football field.

North Dakota State, top-ranked in The Associated Press poll, staked emphatic claim to the crown Saturday by overwhelming second-ranked Montana 30-3 in the Camellia Bowl at Sacramento, Calif.

Me a n w h i l e, Texas A&I, ranked 11th nationally, captured the championship of the NAIA colleges by whipping Concordia of Minnesota 32-7 at Kingsville, Tex. The losers were rated 17th.

Bear Bryant also had a magic number, but it was more like black magic. The Bear's Alabama team surrendered 47 points—his 1961, 1962 and 1966 teams didn't give up that many in a full season—and bowed to Colorado 47-33 in the Liberty

Bowl at Memphis, Tenn.

Only once in Bryant's 25-year head coaching career at Maryland, Kentucky, Texas A&M and Alabama had his teams yielded more points...and that came just two weeks earlier in a 49-26 loss to Auburn.

The Camellia Bowl was only one of four NCAA College Division bowl games. Elsewhere, East Tennessee State, ranked 20th, drubbed fourth-rated Louisiana Tech 34-14 in the Grantland Rice Bowl at Baton Rouge, La.

Seventh-ranked Arkansas State outlasted Drake 29-21 in the Pecan Bowl at Arlington, Tex., and 10th-ranked Delaware whipped North Carolina Central 31-13 in the Boardwalk Bowl played indoors at Convention Hall in Atlantic City, N.J.

Colorado's victory over Alabama was primarily the work of All-American halfback Bob Anderson, who shredded the once-feared Bryant defense for 254 yards on 35 carries and three touchdowns.

North Dakota State's victory over Montana was directed by quarterback Bruce Grasmanke, who completed 16 of 25 passes for 206 yards and a touchdown and ran for one score. His touchdown pass went to Little All-American halfback Paul Hamchett.

East Tennessee dumped Little All-American quarterback Terry Bradshaw 12 times for 140 yards in losses in trouncing Louisiana Tech. Bradshaw, a likely high pro choice in next month's draft, also had three passes intercepted and fumbled the ball away once.

Sub quarter back Bubba Crocker took over for injured starter James Hamilton midway through the first period and led Arkansas State over Drake with two scoring passes and a five-yard touchdown run. The winners had a 2-0 halftime lead.

Delaware's Tom Dimuzio, a second-team Little All-American, passed for two touchdowns and scored another as the Blue Hens whipped North Carolina Central.

Karl Douglas fired scoring strikes of 65 yards to Eldridge Small and 84 and 40 yards to Dwight Harrison as Texas A&I ended Concordia's unbeaten season. The 84-yarder was an NAIA playoff record.

The postseason competition continues next Saturday with Nebraska meeting Georgia in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex.

Twins' Carow Best Batter in League

By LARRY ELDREDGE
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — The hitters asserted themselves in 1968 American League action as Rod Carew of the Minnesota Twins led the way with a .332 average — the highest to win the batting championship since 1961.

Official statistics released by the league office over the week-end confirmed that there were six .300 hitters this year compared to only one in 1968's year of the Pitcher. The batting average for the entire league was .246, an increase of 16 points over last year's .230 figure.

Carew's average was by far the best of his three-year major league career, following marks of .292 and .273. It was 31 points better than Carl Yastrzemski's title winning .301 percentage a year ago, and was the second highest winning average in the 1960s, topped only by Norm Sash's .361 mark eight years ago.

Recession Signs Pile Up; Question Is: How Much?

By CARLTON SMITH and RICHARD PUTNAM PRATT

Signs are becoming increasingly clear that the U.S. economy may be heading into a recession.

The wishful thinkers are trying hard to wish it away, but those who have to be listened to, on the basis of how often they've been right in the past, there's a growing consensus of recession. The question for most is now not so much whether as how much.

Far up on the list of those who can't be ignored because they've so often been right is Henry Kaufman, a man who bears two titles—partner and economist—in the giant investment banking firm of Salomon Brothers & Hutzler, one of the country's major financial institutions.

Speaking at an Institutional Investors Conference in London recently, Kaufman said flatly that the time for a shakeout is here, when the economy is going to have to pay for its excesses of the past. Here's how the scene looks:

During the entire decade of the '60s, gross national product in the United States showed "a spectacular increase"—and growth of the GNP is supposedly a key indication of economic vigor. In the second half of this decade, however, we've had "an unhealthy economic advance which has caused recurring financial strains, a high rate of inflation and expectations of everlasting inflation."

More than three years ago, painfully tight money produced the "credit crunch" of 1966. Now we have what Kaufman terms the "superchurn." There's little mortgage money available for home buyers, and interest rates of 8 1/2 and 9 per cent have simply shut the door on many would-be buyers.

Corporate borrowers are little better off. "Only business corporations with the highest credit rating," says Kaufman, "still have access to straight long-term debt financing" in the bond market. State and local governments "have been significantly curtailed in their long-term financing."

Where has all the money gone? We've developed an economic climate that has "severely distorted spending, saving and investing decisions." Savings funds are flowing out of deposit institutions at an alarming rate. Final note on "unhealthy growth": Since early 1966, while the GNP was shooting upward 8 per cent a year, Dow-Jones industrials showed an over-all decline of more than 18 per cent, plunging 70 points early this month to a three-year low.

Listening to this roll call of all the things that have gone wrong, it's hard to disagree with Kaufman's prediction that "We are now at or very close to a showdown in the clash between the excesses of the economy and the efforts of our authorities to restrain it, and thus to restore a sustainable environment."

And he scoffs at the notion that all we need is "a little slowdown for a few months. Inflation will be phased out and stability will return." What's required, he says toughly, is "at least a mild but sustained business recession—which indeed seems near at hand." He forecasts, for 1970, "a major profit squeeze," with a drop averaging 15 to 20 per cent.

It sounds as if we're due to swallow some bitter medicine and, as always, nobody enjoys taking medicine. But if Kaufman and an impressive number of other economists are right, when they say it's the only way that inflation can be laid low, it's better to take the medicine than to let the fever run on.

Jim: "That doesn't follow. Defensive play is far tougher than dummy play and there is no such thing as simple defense."

Oswald: "There is if the defenders will take the trouble to review the bidding and to see just what cards declarer will be holding."

Jim: "West opens his partner's suit against three no-trump South wins the third heart lead and discards a club from dummy. Then he runs off dummy's four diamonds and discards two of his clubs. West has to discard on the fourth diamond."

Oswald: "It's simple enough. If he throws a spade, South makes his contract. If he throws a club, South is down one."

Jim: "If West reviews the bidding he can be pretty sure that his partner holds one of the black aces and nothing else. If it is the spade ace, then South started with a club suit headed by ace and king. If it were a six card suit, South would surely have rebid it directly over the one heart overcall. If it were only a five card suit, South would be down to three clubs and three clubs tricks wouldn't give him the contract. Not exactly simple, is it?"

Oswald: "No, it isn't. Nevertheless expert West would have told expert East which ace he held."

Jim: "That is so. An Expert East would have played the 10 of hearts first, then the jack, then the queen. A suit preference signal to show an entry in the lowest suit, clubs!"

THE WELL CHILD®

Teach Your Child Sledding Safety Rules

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Every snow storm is an incentive for your child to go sledding, especially if there is a hill nearby. Before he goes out, you should make sure he is wearing a hat, jacket, gloves and boots. It is also wise to make sure the sled has no broken parts or jagged edges.

Accidents are best avoided by knowing in advance what to expect. The commonest sledding accidents have resulted from coasting into the path of an automobile. The driver, may, fail to see the sled because it is so close to the ground and because, even if he sees it, it may be hard to stop quickly enough on an icy road.

Hitching a sled to a truck or auto is especially dangerous at intersections because another vehicle approaching at a right angle can easily miss seeing the child, particularly in the twilight hours after school. Furthermore, a sudden stop may send the sled under the wheels of the car.

The sledding area should be completely covered with snow. Hitting a bare spot is likely to throw a child off his sled, possibly into a tree or post, and an icy spot makes it hard for him to control his sled. Slopes that are too steep are another source of danger. Sledding should never be attempted on a toboggan or ski run.

The safest position on a sled is on the stomach with both arms and legs on the sled. If your child wears a

Republicans Make Plans for Election

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans laying the groundwork for the 1970 election plan to feature President Nixon as their top campaigner, congressional Democrats as their No. 1 political targets and control of the Senate and Southern governorships as major goals.

But the leadership of the GOP drive was thrown in doubt by Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton's announcement he will compete with Nixon Tuesday on the GOP ticket.

Although Morton indicated he felt a Senate race fell within the commitment he made to Nixon, and the GOP upon assuming the chairmanship last April, many top Republicans thought he would continue in the party post unless he came under strong pressure from the president to run.

Lack of a suitable successor for Morton in the party post is considered a prime problem. Morton's statement came at the end of a three-day conference of the Republican Governors Association in Hot Springs, Ark., at which GOP strategy and campaign plans emerged.

Jim Allison, the deputy national chairman, said in an interview he expects Nixon to play a major role in the GOP drive to capture Congress and retain its 32-18 majority of governorships.

Allison said Vice President Spiro T. Agnew would draw the brunt of fund raising speech assignments. But he added he expects Nixon to appear in all major battleground states next fall — as he did this year for the two successful Republican gubernatorial candidates in New Jersey and Virginia.

The GOP's chief campaign target was evident as four top Republicans aimed their fire at Democrats who control Congress.

Agnew attacked the responsible tinkering by Senate Democrats on the Vietnam bill; Atty. Gen. Tompkins said failure to pass the plus and anticrime proposals was "substantially hamstringing the

Freeman Just Makes Them Pay for It

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Dallas Chaparrals wouldn't let Don Freeman of the Miami Floridians enjoy a well-earned rest, so Freeman made them pay for it.

Freeman had 39 points and the Floridians a 13-point lead midway in the fourth quarter of an American Basketball Association game Sunday night. But Dallas rallied and Freeman had to come back in the final two minutes to score six more points and clinch a 119-115 victory.

Skip Thoren helped the Floridians with 28 rebounds. Cincy Powell scored 30 points and Manny Leaks 27 for Dallas.

In other Sunday games in the ABA, New Orleans downed Washington 104-94 and Denver trounced Los Angeles 122-101.

Philadelphia outlasted Chicago 126-121, Milwaukee topped 118-105, Cincinnati edged Phoenix 137-130 in two overtimes and Los Angeles nipped Seattle 131-127 in the National Basketball Association Sunday.

New Orleans opened up a five-game lead over second-place Washington in the Western Division but lost star guard Jimmy Jones for approximately two weeks with strained ligaments in his left knee in a first-quarter fall. Jones went into the game averaging 26 points.

Steve Jones led New Orleans with 29 points, and Mike Butler added 29. Gary Bradds topped Washington with 21.

Larry Jones scored 27 points and Spencer Haywood poured in said failure to pass the plus and anticrime proposals was "substantially hamstringing the

Educational Plan Has Not Worked Out as Sponsors Wanted It

By GAVEN HUGHINS

AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government's multibillion-dollar answer to the educational needs of America's disadvantaged children is at a critical crossroads, its future clouded by evidence of blundering management and misuse of funds.

Title I, the heart of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, established a national goal of equalizing educational opportunities for all children by compensating for the disadvantages suffered by those who grow up in impoverished communities.

To this end, the program has been appropriated over the past five years, including $1.2 billion in fiscal 1969. Yet Title I has not been out, so far as its sponsors intended.

According to the program, Money has been spent in wrong places and the program has not reached the impoverished children who need it most.

Commissioner of Education James E. Allen Jr. recently appointed a special task force to take a hard look at the program.

Allen formed the study group after government auditors said they had come across cases like these:

— $16,000 in Title I funds went for a sewage disposal plant in Attala County, Miss.

— In three Georgia school districts—Gwinnett, Bibbs and Muscogee counties—$870,000 was used to set up curriculum centers and a reading clinic to serve all schools, regardless of whether they were Title I targets.

— Detroit overcharged Title I $1.3 million in one year for overhead costs which would have been incurred even if the district had not been participating in the program.

— In Fresno County, Calif., several school districts used $930,000 in Title I funds to construct, equip and operate a countrywide instructional television station designed for all children, including those not under the Title I program.

— In Milwaukee, Wis., $21,605 went for salaries of non-Title I school personnel. And in New Jersey, $44,000 was used to pay employees who devoted less than full time to Title I activities.

— Title I money paid for the rent on a building for administrative offices in a school district.

To foster tighter controls, the task force said the federal government now is seeking to turn the program into a system of grants to states ask for money under Title I on a week-to-week basis.

"This is better than issuing a blank letter of credit," he said. "To issue a full letter of credit for a state's needs all at one time under Title I could represent a heavy drain on the U.S. Treasury at one blow."

Despite problems in its implementation, Title I is specific about who should benefit from its provisions—children in low income areas, handicapped, neglected, delinquent and foster children, American Indian children and those of migratory agricultural workers.

A complex formula is used to compute the amount of money a local district receives. The funds can be spent in any manner approved by the state—so long as it goes to help children in the specified categories.

About 9 million disadvantaged children in 16,000 school districts participated in Title I programs in fiscal 1968. Under present funding, average spending is about $150 per year per disadvantaged child.

Most officials think this is the help too thin to produce effective results. The federal government is therefore turning to a policy of "decentralization" or "withholding" funds, to put it another way, it means that some kids won't get anything so that we can concentrate on those who, we believe, will benefit most from our efforts," said Lessinger, the commissioner of education. "It's a question of trying not to ineffectively diffuse our resources."

Lessinger now has introduced a new element in the Title I picture—the idea of accountability. "We no longer can rely on finding out statistics about how many teachers have been added in a system under Title I and so on. Now we want to know what the payoff is in student performance as a result of the program. We want to know exactly how much better they're reading, spelling and eating," Lessinger said.

Chicken and Maggie in a Dead Heat

DETROIT (AP)—Maggie and Chicken, Detroit's only remaining junk wagon horses, performed to a dead heat in a venerable but dying tradition.

Since the 1930s, when more than 400 horses pulled junk carts around the city, the Michigan Humane Society's Christmas Party for Horses and Homeless Animal Orphans has featured a competition for junk wagon horses.

This year, Sgt. Steve Jezierski of the Detroit Police Mounted Bureau decided to make the race, applied for and won as their "partner."

The two "junk wags" were presented with a special treat of "people crackers," dog biscuits in the shape of dogcatchers and mailmen. Puppies feasted on a mock turkey made of hamburger.

Referring to the present funding level, Lessinger said "schools are having a tough time with this. It adds up to about one-fifth of a teacher. But always remember, the kids reached by Title I are kids no other country educates."

Lessinger said he has faith in the eventual, complete success of the Title I program.

"This is the first time that anybody has really recognized the existence of many of these children," he said. "What we're really dealing with here is the concrete adoption of the principle that every child should have—and is entitled to—an education."

"This is a truly amazing and overwhelming goal. To say we've succeeded in two years is just too much..."

Boston, Chicago Make A Deal

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox have traded infielder Syd O'Brien, pitcher Billy Farmer and an unspecified amount of cash to the Chicago White Sox for veteran southpaw pitcher Gary Peters and catcher Don Pavletich.

Boston also traded Saturday 26-year-old utility infielder Dalton Jones to Detroit for Tom Matchick.

Israeli to Keep Land Occupied

By MARCUS ELIASON
Associated Press Writer
JERUSALEM (AP) — Premier Golda Meir presented her new coalition government to the Israeli Parliament today and pledged that Israel will hold on to the Arab Territory it occupied in the 1967 war until peace comes to the Middle East.

The 71-year-old woman leader said, however, that Israel will never despair of seeking peace with its Arab neighbors.

She blasted the Soviet Union, charging it with supplying arms for the Arabs to use in attempting to destroy Israel. She said since the 1967 war the Russians have furnished Egypt $2 billion worth of military equipment and Syria and Iraq $600 million worth.

Major Moves Made to Resolve Conflicts in Tax Reform Measure

By EDMOND LEBRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Two major moves to resolve the House-Senate conflicts over massive tax reform legislation confronted Congress today as efforts began to reach a compromise before Christmas.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., said Sunday the Treasury Department had prepared an alternative plan for increasing the personal income tax exemption and would offer it to the conference committee on tax reform.

Can't Bar Negroes, Court Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled 5 to 3 today that Negro homeowners may not be barred from recreation facilities open to their white neighbors.

Their right, said Justice William O. Douglas, stems from an 1866 civil rights law and if they are denied access they may sue in state or federal courts.

The decision does not cover private social clubs. Rather, it covers swimming pools and other facilities shared by families that own homes in a particular suburban area.

Compensation Pay Upheld by Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today upheld judgments of Arkansas County Circuit Court and the state Workmen's Compensation Commission that an employee was entitled to compensation for injuries received when he was assaulted on the job.

Townsend Paneling Inc., of Stuttgart had appealed the ruling handed down under Judge Joe Rhodes in favor of Curley Butler, 64, of Stuttgart, a nine-year Townsend employee who was injured Jan. 29, 1968.

Butler, who was operating a rip saw machine, said Wilson apparently was angry because he had not accepted Wilson's offer of a bet and had told Wilson to go back to his task of stacking lumber. Wilson said that Butler had agreed to the bet but declined to pay when he lost. The stake in the proposed bet was 25 cents.

The Supreme Court said the commission had stated the proper rule regarding compensation for injuries resulting from on the job assaults when it held that they "are compensable where the assault is casually related to the employment, but that such injuries are not compensable where the assault arises out of purely personal reasons."

Nixon Will Announce 3rd Withdrawal

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is expected to announce a third round of U.S. troop withdrawals from Vietnam when he speaks to the nation tonight in an updated report on his efforts to end the war.

The White House said the brief speech, to be carried live by network television and radio at 8 p.m. EST, will be an extension of the President's Nov. 3 nationwide address in which he outlined his plans for bringing the fighting to a close.

Nixon had said during his last news conference a week ago today he would announce another American troop pullout from the war zone by Christmas.

Nixon made no estimate then of the number of U.S. troops to come out of Vietnam and the White House in announcing this latest speech did not mention any figures, but widespread speculation has placed the total at 30,000 to 40,000.

So far, the administration has pulled out about 63,000 troops from the war zone, which means some 40,000 more must be withdrawn if Nixon is to meet the 100,000-man reduction goal he has set for this year.

Miller Leads Fatalities in Hope District

The monthly statistical review of traffic accidents for November in Southwest Arkansas was released today by State Police Captain Milton Mosier, commander of the Hope District. Mosier said that statewide, traffic deaths claimed the lives of 55 persons in November. He said this compares to 80 deaths for November of 1968, or a reduction of 25 deaths. Eleven of the 55 fatalities occurred in the 12 counties composing the Hope District.

According to the report, Miller County recorded 4 traffic fatalities, Nevada County recorded 2, and the counties of Columbia, Howard, Lafayette, Little River, and Sevier recorded 1 each. 1 death each occurred in the city of Texarkana and Emerson.

Mosier said troopers assigned to the Hope District investigated 123 accidents during November. He said troopers cited failure to yield and inattention as the leading causes of the 123 accidents.

Miller County recorded the highest rate, with 15 accidents in November. Little River recorded 14 accidents, Nevada 12, Polk 10, Sevier 9, Pike 8, Howard and Lafayette 5 each, and Montgomery County 2 accidents during November.

Statewide, Mosier said troopers investigated 980 accidents. Excessive speed was cited as the leading cause of traffic accidents. Mosier urged motorists to drive with extreme caution during the approaching Christmas season. He said the true spirit of Christmas could be lost in a split second lapse of good judgement, which oftentimes results in a traffic accident.
